ASIS Foundation Calendar

Chapter leaders should note the following opportunities to support professional development of their members and students in their community through ASIS Foundation awards and scholarships.

2011

The ASIS Foundation Board of Trustees has determined that some of its standing awards will need to be limited or eliminated in 2011 due to budgetary constraints caused by a reduction in overall donations. While they regret this action, it was unavoidable. The Board remains deeply committed to its core mission of advancing the profession through education and research. It is their hope that through increased fundraising efforts and outreach in the coming year, programs will not only return to past levels, but will increase in the coming years.

January 1
Applications accepted for Alan J. Cross Award

The Cross Award pays registration fees for 20 members to attend an ASIS certification review course of their choice. Applications must be signed by a chapter officer. Members cannot nominate themselves.

January 1
Applications accepted for Chapter Matching Scholarships

Make the most of your local chapter's scholarship program. These awards provide matching funds for an education award to a chapter member or college student. If a scholarship is awarded to a chapter member, the Foundation doubles the award, up to $1,000. If a scholarship is awarded to a student, the Foundation matches the amount up to $500 for the first 30 applications.
Deadline: November 30, 2010

January 15
Applications accepted for Roy Bordes Physical Security Award

Apply for a customized, two-day physical security education program for your chapter. Annually, one ASIS chapter is honored with the Roy Bordes Physical Security Award, which pays toward the cost of instructors, their travel and accommodations, and collateral materials.
Deadline: March 7, 2011

September 9
Applications accepted for 2011 Timothy J. Walsh APC I Award

Don't miss this chance to take an APC I course—free of charge! Applicants must be nominated by their chapter and complete a one-page application and a personal narrative.
Deadline: October 7, 2011
