November Local ASIS Events

The Northern Nevada ASIS Chapter 164 has been hosting the Law Enforcement Appreciation Luncheon event for several years now, and this year promises to be the largest yet. As a group we will say thank you for a job well done to just one of the many Law Enforcement Professionals that we have the opportunity to interact with through out the previous year.

Although we appreciate all of the officers and all that they do we are only able to reward one from each department each year with a recognition ceremony, an award and a gift certificate. This is always a wonderful opportunity to say thank you and meet some of the most dedicated people in our communities.

In addition to the upcoming Law Enforcement Appreciation Luncheon, we have a very exciting opportunity in our chapter this in the beginning of November. The event, Managing an Effective Physical Security Program, is the result of the Roy Bordes award that was won by our chapter thru the hard work and dedication of Jay Martin and Mark Crosby

This event promises to be a way to not only recognize the hard work and dedication of your local chapter, but to learn new skills and brush up on some of your old talents. Seldom do we get such a relevant training course for such a reasonable price with out having to travel out of our area. The speakers are highly accredited and have a great deal of knowledge to share with attendees.

Guest speaker Howard A. Moster, CPP, CRM, CFE, PSP, is a senior partner of the Edmonton Alberta based Security Management Consulting company Practical Protection Associates. Additionally he has been published multiple times in Security Management and has been instrumental in numerous programs. <http://www.asisnn.org/howard-a-moster---biography.html>

Guest speaker Basil Steel currently works for Sandia National Laboratories which develops science-based technologies for support of national security. There he is the Deputy Director for the Weapon and Force Protection Center. He has worked for the Department of Defense, and the Department of Energy Security as well as may other notable positions. <http://www.asisnn.org/basil-j-steel---bordes-seminar-instructor.html>

Please follow the links for more certifications and accomplishments that are too numerous to list here. Lunch is provided for attendees

Chairman's Corner

Welcome to fall everyone. Our chapter had its elections at the October meeting and we have a new executive board. Please join me in congratulating Chris Brockway, CPP and his new team of professionals as they prepare to lead us for another year. Many of the initiatives started by our membership this year should carry on and become reality in 2012. We are planning a major overhaul of the Law Enforcement Appreciation event as well as possibly adding a Security appreciation event and other fundraisers. It has been so refreshing to see many of our newer members bringing some energy and creativity to our organization.

We can all be proud of our accomplishments this year. Besides winning the coveted Roy Bordes Award and the Newsletter of the Year award, we have also presented a successful educational event, an expanded law Enforcement event. Not quite as significant, but still important to many of us, was the upgrade of our website, the ability to accept online payments, and the annual luncheon payments. We also were recognized by the ASIS foundation for our donation to them and we are about to award our annual scholarships.

None of these successes spontaneously erupt. They all have to be conceived, planned, and implemented by dedicated members. I want to thank everyone involved in the success of our chapter this year and to encourage all members to take on a role within our chapter. No matter how small your contribution, any amount of time and energy you can provide comes back to us exponentially. Lets support our new team, our chapter, and ASIS as we move into a promising 2012.

MEMBERS HIGHLIGHT

The tragic event at the air races brought out the best in many of our chapter members, and brought them together to honor NNASIS member Brian Markowski's students at the Sierra Nevada Job Corps. The students were honored when they joined NNASIS members Joe Martin and Jason Patterson of Martin-Ross and Associates provided the certificates and the students were recognized by local law enforcement representatives including Undersheriff Todd Vinger for their assistance at this tragic event.

Webmaster—Mark Crosby

Legislation news—a reminder about the enacted cell phone law that outlaws texting and using a handheld cell phone as of October 1st. Tickets will be issued starting January 1st 2012 with fines starting at $50

2011 state law made stealing items valued at more than $650 for a felony from $250

12:26 Mark Crosby presented to the group on CPP training and certification covering alarms, fences, IDs, combinations for locks and computer passwords. A mock test included questions, discussions and answers about bomb searches, fire awareness, and emergency response, media interactions, strikes and executive protection.

Additional study tips were given for other certifications as well such as budget your time and take notes. Also due to the similarity in the subject matter you may consider taking the PSP at the same time. It will save you time studying and due to our busy schedules most people may not want to schedule another intense study session for the second certification.

11:55 The meeting started with a pledge of allegiance

12:00 Member introductions

Last month's Minutes were approved, Mark Crosby motioned, Dean Hill seconded, and all approved with no objections

Last month's Treasurer report was approved Dennis Smith motioned, Dean Hill seconded, and all approved with no objections

Mark Crosby discussed the Roy Bordes Managing an Effective Physical Security Program that is upcoming. The chapter will be required to pay for the $1200 conference room if 75% of the room block is not filled. Mark reminded members that this two day seminar is only $300 for members. The seminar includes speakers such as Basil Steel and is a great networking opportunity for members and non members.

Darrel Clifton and Dean Hill reviewed the Law Enforcement Appreciation event that is taking place at next month's meeting. Eight of the ten anticipated agencies are confirmed and have nominees. Only two of the needed four sponsors are on track. Members are encouraged to bring one or two people to attend to our largest event of the year

Brian Markowski expressed recognition and gratitude to the Martin-Ross Security group for recognizing Brian's students and their role in the events after the tragic Air Races Crash. Additional information can be found on local channels Two's and Four's websites.
